Griass Di*

(* Tyrolean for Hello there)

Der Stern is moving with the times again – just as it has reinvented itself over centuries, from one generation to the next. The ground floor has been given a fresh makeover, turning your arrival at Der Stern into an entirely new experience. But don't worry, we've preserved the charm and spirit of Der Stern while adding what truly matters: more space, (barrier-free) accessibility, and cosiness – or as we like to say, it's all about feeling huamelig (Tyrolean for hygge).

Let yourself be drawn into the new heart of Der Stern, whether here online or, even better, in person. From the moment you arrive, paved pathways guide you past native plants and a biotope to the welcoming wooden entrance – a blend of modernity, alpine living, and harmony between people and nature.

And inside? A spacious living room where being yourself is embraced, where laughter fills the air, where you can play or simply enjoy time together. With cosy corners, a large communal table, a lounging area, and a small library, everything is ready for the best family moments or relaxed hours with friends. And the soul of Der Stern remains unchanged – it is and always will be a place where you simply feel at home.

Always stay up to date – whether it's about the heart of Der Stern or new ideas!

Elfi, Yvonne, Franzi, ...

Let's be honest – it's the people that make Der Stern so special. It's the joy of welcoming guests, the passion for being a host, and the laughter that fills the room when friends come together. And that's how it should always be.

The new welcome bar is the central place for a good old «Huangarten» – as we say, when people meet up and simply enjoy a lovely time together. Here, we look forward to seeing familiar faces, welcoming new Stern friends, and sharing our favourite spots. And since it's a bar, after all, you can enjoy a delicious barista coffee or raise a glass to celebrate.

Stern 2.0 where it makes sense!

We want to make things easier for you, so:

-All digital information in English!

-A guest app from booking to heading home

-All information and tips available online at any time

-Weekly programme for children and adults with online registration

-Online check-in and check-out options available

We love food!

We also love quality ingredients. And we absolutely love bringing deliciousness to the plate.

It's pure joy for us to create something exquisite from fantastic ingredients sourced directly from producers and traditional, time-honoured recipes. When we enhance this passion for local produce with healthy, climate-friendly ideas, we're truly happy.

In the new centrepiece of Der Stern, we now have even more space to showcase our culinary delights. The best part? You can watch our kitchen team as they prepare culinary highlights with dedication – and serve them to your table with a smile.

Here's what you can look forward to!

- Pastries and bread from our new regional baker
- Breakfast with more plant-based options – always fresh and locally sourced
- Start your day with warm dishes: vegetable broth, sweet treats, DIY egg cooker, and infused water
- A salad bar to create your own fresh bowl every day
- Enjoy fresh Oberland ice cream daily from our new soft-serve machine
- And a new highlight we're not revealing just yet :-)

My lemonade!

The juice press has become a hit at Der Stern, especially with kids! In the mornings, they mix fresh fruits and vegetables however they like for the perfect vitamin boost. But why limit the fun to the morning? In the evening, the excitement continues at the new market bar!

Kids can get creative and mix their very own favourite lemonade – all by themselves (!?) – while the grown-ups craft their personal DIY spritz. The water bar, regional farm juices, and craft beers on tap complete the offerings with a huge advantage: no waiting, everyone can get creative, and it's easy on the family budget – sounds great, doesn't it?

Wine lovers can still order a proper bottle of fine Austrian wine – and we'll even partially credit it back from the drinks package. So, cheers and enjoy!

Huamelig – Alpine Hygge

Letting go of beloved spaces and favourite pieces was not easy for us. These walls hold history, and every corner tells countless stories. That's why we approached the redesign with extra care and sensitivity.

The historic inn parlours have been preserved and technically as well as atmospherically modernised to continue welcoming guests for the next 100 years. A new «old» highlight: we had a 300-year-old farmhouse parlour tucked away upstairs, which is now showcased in the newly created chimney parlour. Finally accessible to all, it offers a cosy space for lively gatherings, exciting game nights, and meaningful conversations.

The new, modern parlours are just as impressive: the Klammstuben evoke the warmth and mystique of the nearby gorge (yes, the Klamm Castle in Obsteig!). And the spacious veranda? It feels as though you're sitting right in the middle of nature.

Building with Responsibility and Awareness

Circular economy: We reused an incredible amount (panelling, insulation material, wooden facade, unique pieces, etc.) and passed many items on to others (bar, equipment, crockery, cutlery, decorations, lights, tables, etc.).

Thermal building renovation: All windows (120!) were renovated or replaced after 33 years, full thermal insulation with wood fibre, and a new floor structure with insulation across the entire ground floor.

Natural and recycled materials were used throughout: wood (new constructions, insulation, windows, ceilings), old newspapers (soundproofing), glass gravel (floor insulation), etc.

100% of construction companies are located within 50 km.

State-of-the-art technology: energy-efficient appliances, lighting, ventilation, and heating, along with „healthy“ cooling using a cooling converter – entirely without air conditioning.

Accessibility for all guests: from the basement to the 4th upper floor and step-free access throughout the ground floor.

Naturally at Der Stern

It's the countless little moments and the sense of freedom that make life at Der Stern so carefree. Time for the kids, time for the family – and a little time for yourself too.

The sunny plateau not only boasts the most hours of sunshine – it's where summer lasts a little longer. By March, we're already enjoying spring in nature, soaking up the sun, and staying active. Hiking, cycling, climbing, or diving into the crystal-clear mountain lakes – the possibilities are endless. Plus, Innsbruck and the Zugspitze are just a stone's throw away.

Your holiday truly comes to life at Der Stern: start the day with yoga, foraging, or e-biking, then unwind in the eco-indoor pool or let the little ones play in the adventure barn. The kids can feed the animals with Grandpa Toni, ride ponies, and enjoy an evening around the campfire – or spend the night in a hay bed for an extra special adventure.
